FROM FATHER JOHN

In last weekend's homily, I spoke in part about the need we all have to be careful about who we surround ourselves with. The gospel reading last weekend spoke of Jesus choosing the first four of His 12 Apostles at the beginning of His public ministry, illustrating for us how the success (or failure) of our discipleship depends largely on who we travel this pilgrim journey of faith with.

Many of you commented to me how much you appreciated this reminder. Many of you also took seriously what I said about taking some time to reflect upon whether the people we surround ourselves with are actually good for us. Speaking from personal experience, I can attest to the fact that every time I hung around "unsavory" folks, I got into trouble. Every time! Without exception! On the other hand, when I maintained relationships with people of faith, virtue and general goodness, I found my life blossoming in many and varied ways.

As I've grown older (and hopefully wiser), I've discovered that one of the most difficult but necessary things to do is cut certain 'hindering' people out of my life. On a few occasions (and thankfully, only a few), I have had to end specific relationships because they were toxic, they were shallow, they were leading me away from God, they were a roadblock to deeper conversion. And never once were those conversations easy. I was called judgmental. I was called unChristian. I was accused of thinking I was better than everyone else. I tried to keep the focus on me and away from listing the other person's perceived shortcomings. It didn't matter. They felt judged, and they were not happy. But, such is life.... Jesus Christ gave us a standard to strive for, and that standard is the Gospel. It is not only imperative that we aspire to this lofty ideal, but it is equally necessary to surround ourselves with people who, AT A MINIMUM, do not want to hinder our pursuit of this goal. If they do, you may need to make some tough decisions about the future of those relationships.

1ST QUARTER FISCAL YEAR 2017 REPORT OF THE ST. RICHARD CONFERENCE OF THE SOCIETY OF ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

The purpose of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul is the spiritual development of its members through serving the poor in a loving, supportive, and respectful manner guided by the Holy Spirit. During October, November, and December 2016, 36 home visits were made, 286 miles were driven, and 41 hours were spent serving families living in poverty within our parish boundaries and beyond. In addition, volunteers provided many hours of work manning the society's assistance telephone line, stocking and organizing its food bank, and helping with society's recordkeeping. 113 persons were served in 36 households. $26,155 of cash donations were received from parishioners, Vincentians, poor box donations, Claudia Addison's yoga class, and memorials. $12,073 was spent to help the basic needs of Society clients such as rent, utilities, prescription assistance, and transportation. In addition, in-kind food donations allowed us to provide food boxes worth approximately $969 to our clients. Administrative expenses (telephone, printing, office supplies, national dues, etc.) totaled $561. We also entered into a partnership with Hope Credit Union to provide to clients, in appropriate situations, a low interest rate small loan alternative to pay off high interest “payday” type loans. Thank you for your continued support and generosity.
